You've been on your own since you learned how to adjust to
You felt like you had to baby sit your owners just to feel like all the others

All you wanted was...
Something that was normal and stable
You've always been so aware and so able
But you still seem so far away
It's difficult to enjoy all the holidays
It's nothing more than the same as the other days
But you can't feel any other way

You have to tell yourself why
Gotta keep your spirit alive
Gotta keep yourself movin' forward
You never gave into anything around you
With something you could never afford

All you wanted was
Something that was normal and stable
You've always been so aware and so able

But you still seem so far away
It's difficult to enjoy all the holidays
It's nothing more than the same as the other days
But you can't feel any other way

When you wish for this You'll ditch everything else
It just floats away and crawls out your skull
All you wanna do is crawl inside your hole Disappear forever

Something that's normal and stable
You've always been so aware and so able
But you still seem so far away
It's difficult to enjoy all the holidays
It's nothing more than the same as the other days
But you can't feel any other way

Forever

Forever
Forever
Forever
