If you can see the spark,
Growing, glowing in my eyes.
So many years gone by
It's almost like time is standing still.
All of my dreams are disjointed
Lacking your sensibility
If not for a creative side in me, that you see.
I might only be blamed for my eyes and this insane
sense of pride.
What if this could be what I want?
I am all of the above.
What if it could mean more than this?
I am all of the above.
I'll be upfront and tell you that my intention all along,
were to mislead you.
Give this a few minutes to sink in these are my sins and obviously you have been.
Trained from the start, because I say you are.
What if this could be what I want?
I am all of the above.
What if it could mean more than this?
I am all of the above.
What's a guy supposed to do?
You tried to right my wrong.
What's this I don't do?
You tried to right my wrong.
What's this?
It could be more than anything
I am all of the above anyway

What's this?
It could be what I want
I am all of the above
