Fork over a little more than you're used to.
It's hard to play along with all that you choose to.
Your ultimately stifled
Your plight is denial
If you strike out and become what you hated
You might find out that the truth is related
To this vision
Indecision
Complication
Just fall right in front of me.
You should be thankful for what you see.
Just fall right in front of me.
You better be thankful for what you see.

Wait it's lust and all of what goes with it.
Gripping so tight to the trust and the ruthlessness.
Blinded by the passion
Now submission
Take what's wrong and tie it to what you're used to.
Close your hands around what you choose to.
Place it up to the light
It's been in front of you
Just fall right in front of me.
You should be thankful for what you see.
Just fall right in front of me.
You better be thankful for what you see.
The lying is cover
Your feeling is cold
I can't go on
Lying is cover
Feeling is cold
I can't go on
I would if you promise me I will try to..
Throw this gut feeling In to my sleep.
I've tried to suppress it's strength.
Crushed by it's depths
These feelings are cold
I cannot tell if I should stay
You know this goes on in my head
And it sits right down in front of me.
Just fall right in front of me.

You should be thankful for what you see
Just fall in front of me.
This should have been easy, why can't it be.
