"Cover Your Eyes"

The lies roll off your tongue this time
If not for that look you might have fooled me
Below the ground is harder
Like skin if you dig down deeper
Fly solo for the last time
Why is this is so complicated?
When you least expect I'll change
Try to understand my way
When you least expect I'll change
Try to understand my way
If I had a reason to do this all again
Give that look one more try, you won't fool me
Dig down and block what bothers
I think this is your best bet
Like being under water
I can't breath to save myself
When you least expect I will change
Try to understand my way
When you least expect I will change
Try to understand my way
Cover your eyes.
