

Element Eighty

"Weakest Point"

Visit "Weakest Point" on MotoLyrics.com

After all of these years that I'd been trying and trying Cover up the truth. Why? I brought it to your attention.
Didn't understand it but had the nerve to come clean.
Your making fun of me now? Fuck you! I can't believe what your saying.
Why this change of heart?
Now you've had time to think.
I blame me for your mistakes.
Try to find yourself.
From within my eye.
I know you'll make this change.
What's this pain?
Can it be wrong?
Can it be wrong?
What's this game?
It's my fault.
It's my fault.
My trust is what I had no choice in giving you.
Given the choice right now I'd have something different in store for you.
You've screwed my head so bad I can't control what's inside of me.
Find the weakest point and twist! Leave it bleeding
inside of me.
You worked so hard,
All those years and tears,
You could not concentrate.
If it weren't for us
You'd have the options of
A life without so many faces
What's this pain?
Can it be wrong?
Can it be wrong?
What's this game?
It's my fault.
It's my fault.
You would try for this pain.

