"County Line"

I got your message, I read your letter
I dreamed of sunny days when we'd be together
I never could have guessed that it would end You were so careless, you were so reckless With words of love so sweet I never did suspect it You'd cross the county line and it was like we never met

Woe is me, I miss my baby
Woe is you, You got so scared that you nearly went crazy

I ask the heavens for explanations
I close my eyes and wish on the constellations
You crossed the county line and it was like we never
met

Woe is me, I miss my baby
crazy

I ask the heavens for explanations
I close my eyes and wish on the constellations
You crossed the county line and it was like we never
met
