

Eleni Mandell

"Girls"

Visit "Girls" on MotoLyrics.com

I wonder how you look when you sleep
Do you still dream about girls from your street
Do you still dream about girls from high school
Do you still dream about girls, girls, girls

I wonder how you feel when you kiss
I wonder how soft are your lips
Do you still think about girls from last week
Do you still think about girls, girls girls

I am a marble the color of candy
I'll make you money whenever you're gambling
I am the dice you roll in the alley
I am the pennies that come in handy

I wonder how you feel when you're sad
Do you still cry about girls that you've had
Do you still cry about girls you wanted
Do you still cry about girls, girls, girls

I am a marble the color of candy
I'll make you money whenever you're gambling
I am the dice you roll in the alley
I am the pennies that come in handy

I wonder how you look when you're happy
Do you still sing about girls from last week
Do you still sing about girls from last year
Do you still sing about girls, girls, girls
Girls, girls, girls
Girls, girls, girls
Girls, girls, girls

Visit Eleni Mandell page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.