Before you came
They left running in tears of shame
For every time we made it
We are still worthless and faded
Now I see the light to what could of been a better time

Imagine the life..
Imagine their life..

Now I can see your mind
Now I can feel your warth
How do you know it
From all the torture you've been through
I can see right through you
Like photo on the wall

Running through life like an ant
Nothing can overpower me now
'Cause in my view I'm the biggest creature alive
Now save me from the giants that swarm me

Imagine the life..
Imagine their life..

Now I can see your mind
Now I can feel your warth
How do you know it
From all the torture you've been through
I can see right through you

Take a deep breath
Blow it in the worlds' face
Take a deep breath
Blow it in satins' face

Now I can see your mind
Now I can feel your warth
How do you know it
From all the torture you've been through
I can see right through you
