I've seen questions form a million answers and I don't think I've found the one I'm looking for

So have my roses faded black I caught them on my eyes I'm blinded by this misery

So stay away Just Get away don't ask me questions you already know the answers to I'm not fine I'm not ok Will you wear me and make me happy

Will you wear me and show me off to your friends

I've seen it come around I know it goes around it will get you in the end and I burned the mattress we laid upon so long ago I'm not like that anymore

so stay away just get away
