None of my thoughts make any sense but that's just how I'm feeling none of my words are coherent or loaded with a meaning

But this is my life
All day and all night
A series of events that leave my stomach wound up tight

Show me some clarity
That golden rarity
that never seems to show
Tell me where to go
'cause I've tried to map it out
but I'll never figure out Just where I need to be Without some type of clarity

my temperament is spread too thin and lately I have noticed Nothin' I know can help me cope with my constant lack of focus but this is my mind just watch it unwind I guarantee that all you'll see is a constant waste of time

Show me some clarity
That golden rarity
that never seems to show
Tell me where to go
'cause I've tried to map it out
Just where I need to be
Without some type of clarity

Show me some clarity
That golden rarity

'cause I've tried to map it out
Just where I need to be Without some type of clarity
