Don't leave me now my memories are more than I can take tonight
And God show me how I'm supposed to trust in things beyond my sight
So teach me how to kneel
When I don't know how to feel
And show me where you are
When my faith can't reach that far
(My faith can't reach that far)

And tell me there is more
To this life then only what my heart can see
Take all these fears
Make them into more than who I used to be
Is my soul to blind too see
The truth you have for me
Cause this I feel inside
Is too weak to survive
(Too weak to survive)

[Chorus]

My heart has left me alone again
Is this the beginning?
Is this the end?
Is this the time you'll never let me in again?

My heart has left me alone again
Is this the beginning?
Is this the end?
Is this the time you'll never let me in again?

So teach me how to kneel
When I don't know how to feel
And show me where you are
When my faith can't reach that far
(My faith can't reach that far)
