Who flies above them all
To the past the millions crawl
Calling from another place
Where the ancient memories awake

Don't let them fade
The everlasting scream is on the way

Same spirits over me
That pull from underneath
Can you hear just what they say?
Calling out to you so far away

Don't let them fade
The everlasting scream is on the way

Still lying in the dark
Far away from where you are
Calling from another place
Where the ancient memories awake

Don't let them fade
The everlasting scream is on the way
