I can see that you're falling for a girl I know Don't be fooled by her innocent eyes, she's the devil in disguise
She'll leave you all alone, she'll leave you feeling blue
You can love her if you want, but every word I say is true.

She'll pull you in with a grin and a kiss so tender and nice She'll make you think that her love's on fire, but her hearts as cold as ice
She'll leave you all alone, she'll leave you feeling blue
You can love her if you want, but every word I say is
true.

Every word from her lips is nothing more than a lie You're not the first or the last, she's made more than one man cry
She'll leave you all alone, she'll leave you feeling blue
true.....

You can love her if you want, but every word I say is true
