

Eli Young Band

"San Antone"

Visit "San Antone" on MotoLyrics.com

Hard words have been spoken
And my heart it lays wide open
And all you can say is that "it's not my fault"
You watch me while I'm packin'
Goodbyes like these just happen
But my life, it's come crashin' to halt

Wonder where I'll go
Girl if you really must know
You can find me all alone
Somewhere in San Antone
Sittin' by the river
Trying to let you go
It'll take a week or two
Just to get over you
But I think I'm better on my own
In San Antone

I'll make it by the morning with a little luck
I'm gonna drive like the gas pedals stuck
And push my beat up pickup truck as fast as it can go
The only thing that I've got is time
And a lot of worries on my mind
I won't stop 'til I hit that Texas line, then I'm free to roam

If you have a change of heart
And want to make a brand new start
You can find me all alone
Somewhere in San Antone
Sittin' by the river
Trying to let you go
It'll take a week or two
Just to get over you
But I think I'm better on my own
In San Antone.....

In San Antone.....

In San Antone.....

