Paint on your wings, it's time to fly
Red, gold and green, daddy, the color you like Waiting for you, waiting for you to let it all go, to give up this fight
You're finally gonna know, what's on the other side

And the day turns into night
As the light falls from your eyes
Taking away the cup that's keeping you alive
Done everything we could, it's time to stop trying

Finally free, paint on your wings, it's time to fly
Red, gold and green, daddy, the color you like
Waiting for you, waiting for you to let it all go, to give up the fight
You're finally gonna know, what's on the other side
