I try to perfect the motions,
Run through them in my head.
Practice it over and over,
Just like everthing that you said.

This wont make any difference
Light hearted but I'm out of luck.
See I'll do anything
Just to make an honest buck.

A jagged edge from where the footsteps end,
Were you just pretending?
Another day, another way to let myself and others down.

I try to perfect the motions
Run through them in my head.
Practice it over and over
Just like everthing that you said.
