One more day till you transform,
What it takes to make an offer.
I would never ask this much of you,
But for another it's so easily pursued.

A change in heart,
In state of mind,
Or just in what you are.
We both know I played a part in this,
So I'm taking back what's mine.

Free will, I'll surface somewhere,
Anywhere but here.
I'm moving out of San Francisco.
Don't push me, I'm moving out.

I put a dagger in your heart,
Looking back it was an option.
I'm able, and unstable, but you asked for it.
