(Music and lyrics by Elisa Toffoli)

Just like Queens, the leaves move gently as their shadows obey with natural synchronism

Would they mind me? If they knew that I'm here watching and I am wishing I could dance like them oh oh oh oh

And now they surrender to the strong light Changing their colors with the heat I certainly don't know where I am but I know where I wanna be

And they are saying oh oh oh everything follows everything
I guess I'm trying to believe Everything follows and I am trying, and someone's singing to me now. mmhh..

Close to me, no matter how much time we can spend apart we're still together like we're one..
And just like leaves, we will take our chance to fly and we'll learn not to fear the ground by falling down..
Another day to fill up somewhere floating on the line of time
I blow a little wish in my hand, sending it back to the sky

And they're saying oh oh oh everything follows
everything
I guess I'm trying to believe
Everything follows
I'm trying ..and someone's singing to me now

That I will be with you again
Oh I will be with you again

As they say oh oh oh everything follows everything I guess I'm trying to believe that Everything follows and I'm trying, and someone is singing to me now..

That I will be with you again
Oh I will be with you again
