I'm feeling sick with the thought of it
And I can't forget her touching you like that
So put your feet back down,
Wipe away your frown
It's too late now to turn everything around

'Cos I know what you did
And I know who she is
And it makes me sick thinking about it
Oh, I know where you've been
No you can't come back in
It makes me sick thinking about it

When my eyes are closed
I see it all up close
I can hear your breath
And see you telling her don't go
When you touch me now
Can't help but wonder how
Was this the way you touched her before I found out

'Cos I know what you did
And I know who she is
And it makes me sick thinking about it
Oh, I know where you've been
No you can't come back in
It makes me sick thinking about it

So now your here and you're ready to trust
You but you're lyin in the dust like you're wrong
You think you're ready to wish me away
And get my mind off of things
You're so wrong

'Cos I know what you did
And I know who she is
And it makes me sick thinking about it
And I know where you've been
No you can't come back in
It makes me sick
It makes me sick
It makes me sick thinking about it
