We walked this dusty highway for nothign but the pain
I forever swore to hold you
Caught in the trap again
"You deserve better than thid boy"
They always reminded me
But all I wanted was to run to the arms of Angelyne
Me and Angelyne had just broken when my Chevy burned
Out
Bank is taking my house
Might have been something that I've done little brother
One thing I could never do
Walking outside the living to get Something to do
Down, deep you do
Down, into the mystic
Hiding on farewells
When you're down into the mystic

Hodong on farewells
When you're looking down
When you're falling so slow
When there is no turning back
Skin just don't fit me like the way it used to fit me
Regrets for not believing
Some things weren't meant to be
Giving why, must I lie
No looking hard at me
Down, deep you go
Down, into the mystic
Hiding on farewells
When you're down into the mystic
Hiding on farewells
When you're looking down
When you're falling so slow
When there is no turning back
