You don't talk to me you don't care about anything I do but I care for you I walk past you and I try to make you notice me but you don't say a word I try to get your attention and talk to yo but you just walk on by you don't talk to me you don't care about anything I do but I care for you eventually il tell you how I feel... I'm just scared you don't feel it too... cuz you never say a word... a year later I give you my number and I prey you call me and you do so we're on the phone and we're talkin well and I slip and tell you... dear I really care for you and I always will... and you care for for me and we fall in love and it's a happy endin now...
