Looking in your eyes seeing the love you gave me I'm looking in your eyes you told me you would love me forever you said you would never leave me now we're not together what happened to us what did we do wrong looking in your eyes seeing the love you give me I'm looking in your eyes I know I did it wrong I feel like I should have stayed I feel so helpless now your gone you loved me and I let you go how could I have done that looking in your eyes oh baby when I was looking in your eyes and I could see the love you gave to me now when I look into your eyes I see the hurt and the pain the mistakes I would take away if we weren't both falling to pieces I would fix this but all the he said and she said gossiping around would just hurt the cause all the words twisted and hearts broken it would just show more in your eyes... it kills me to look in your eyes... ohhh baby I see it in your eyes... oh oh oh
