Do you hear me calling you,
The voice of a mother
And a father and a child.
Would you recognize the truth,
Do you feel the love that's falling
From my eyes ?

Take just a minute,
Come and rest you by my side.
Let me tell you your own story,
Let me walk you through your life.
Only a second,
It's all it takes to realise,
There's a hundred thousand angels by your side
There's a hundred thousand angels by your side.

Do you hear me talk to you,
I whisper through doorways
And pathways of your mind.
Clear like the morning dew
And fresh from my journey
Cross an ocean of blue...

Take just a minute,
Come and rest you by my side.
Let me tell you your own story,
Let me walk you through your life,
Only a second it's all it takes to realize,
There's a hundred thousand angels by your side
There's a hundred thousand angels here tonight.
