"Light To Your Life"

Lately you've been holding on to something you knew was wrong
Now it's time to let it go
You loved him so, wanted to give
But you don't have to live with his suffering
And I don't want to see you cry, wish you'd say goodbye to the past
It's hard to leave the way you love and even harder
when you know
The light to your life
You know light
You know the light to your life

You know that it's possible to love yourself
Like everyone else loves you too Sorry silly so suddenly, you had a vision that you were happily
It's hard to leave the way you love and even harder
when you know
The light to your life
You know the light
You know the light to your life
You know
You know the light
You know the light

Lately you've been holding on
You know the light
I don't want to see you cry
Wish you'd say goodbye
Wish you'd say goodbye
You know the light
