If you only knew how in love with you
I have always been hopin' you'd give in
If you only knew

One would never guess what I must confess
But it's really so, though you may not know
You're my happiness

Fate has started a story so blind
You can make it the perfect rhyme

If you only knew what your love could do
You would say, "Okay, darling lead the way"
If you only knew

Ah, fate has started a story so blind
You can make it the perfect rhyme

If you only knew what your love could do
You would say, "Okay, darling lead the way"
If you only knew, if you only knew
