Bleed, you are bleeding to death
But from the outside, you look so good
And inside, you've rotted away
And you won't know until that day
When we have drained you, it will be too late
To save your skin and alter your face

And a little time is all we need
And now we are watching you bleed
A little time is all we need
And now we are watching you bleed, bleed

Bleed, you are bleeding to death
But from the outside, you look so good
And inside, you've rotted away
And you won't know until that day
When we have drained you, it will be too late
To save your skin and alter your face

And a little time is all we need
And now we are watching you bleed
A little time is all we need
And now we are watching you bleed
