She blew a kiss, it somehow missed and i ended up all alone once again
And when it rains i always slip, the horrible weather has gripped it;s arms around me.
I'm definitely considering dreams are worth giving up
when everything seems way too much.

Girl i cant be the boy that fixes your broken heart
and i know it's hard but i feel compelled to help you.
Just incase they find you, i want your smile to never fade away!

Just like an eskimo would say 'it's cold out here today, I'm glad i built an igloo' to keep you warm. I drew two love hearts i the snow, printed our names next to them both you said 'dont be so immature'
I'm definitely considering dreams are worth giving up
when everything seems way too much.

Girl i cant be the boy that fixes your broken heart
and i know it's hard but i feel compelled to help you.
Just incase they find you, i want your smile to never
fade away!

suddenly every sentence that i convey is covering up every mistake i've made and if we stay out here all night im sure we'll freeze but honestly i wish you wouldn't leave.
This is where i say something funny and hope to god you crack a smile.
If it wasn't love why does it hurt this much to say goodbye?
This is where you do something cute and i fall more in love with you.
I think you might be better off with someone less like me!

the only thing i wanted to tell you is i feel perfectly fine but i honestly just need some piece and quite for a while

have you ever been so tired?
If waking up alone in a bar is about as good as it gets atleast i know i did my best to be yours, my best to be yours.

Girl i cant be the boy that fixes your broken heart
and i know it's hard but i feel compelled to help you.
Just incase they find you, i want your smile to never
fade away!
