"Long Nights"

If its everything I need
Its suddenly perceived as something I can deal with Don't you wish your eyes shined
Shined as bright as mine do
I swear I've tried to tell you
But it seems it's falling on deaf ears
If you could sing would your lungs scream
I love you, let this be our song
Your too upset wont you please stay
Its not worth the heartache she said
So I'm here to make my statement clear
If it's in your eyes you can just disguise it
Oh and dont sit pretty tired
And don't you need it I do its something I just have to do
If you could sing would your lungs scream
I love you, let this be our song
Your too upset wont you please stay
Its not worth the heartache she said
Take my heart, it and all these scars
