hey! don't get angry just get even and leave him. An incredible mess was left after an incredible party but after that we slowly parted ways, how traigcly lame

everytime that you step outside here, do you still think that maybe your right dear because every inch of this damn city
thinks your better off where you are, tonight!

your hearts still beating for relationships you should be leaving and every intellectual comment i've made here will go unnoticed, it goes to show it's (not you)
i swear to god the cold outside heres bighting i swear that every inch of the rain is finding holes in my shoes and filling them with water because of you!

this damn city
thinks your better off where you are, tonight!

here it is, there it goes, did you see it, it was close it's gone! for a moment i was sure i would never see you fall but i was wrong i'd like to thank everyone here tonight for their love, i think i need it!
and as dramatic as i sound, its not that serious im just scared i might see whats its like to be loved
