With the shape of days to come,
Why shoulder off the crowd, why be the only one
You called it off; you said it's lack of life What a way to cut the air, what a way to spend your night

And all along, all along, your intention was to run
You couldn't be somebody else
You longed to be someone,
And all your colours running off, and you feel it giving up
Cause you couldn't be somebody else when the miracle
came undone

Moving foward into awkward light Ashamed of what you are At peace 'cause you're all right
Long live redemption, live it hard and well
We raise our glass to you
And from us all 'Farewell'

And all along, all along, your intention was to run
You couldn't be somebody else
You longed to be someone,
And all your colours running off, and you feel it giving
up
Cause you couldn't be somebody else when the miracle
came undone

All for a better life
It's a bleak and black and white
All for the closing line
We watched a life pass by

And all along, all along, your intention was to run
You couldn't be somebody else
You longed to be someone,
And all your colours running off, and you feel it giving
up
You couldn't be somebody else when the miracle came undone

And all along, all along, your intention was to run
You couldn't be somebody else
You longed to be someone,
And all your colours running off, and you feel it giving
up
Cause you couldn't be somebody else when the miracle
came undone

And all along, all along, your intention was to run
You couldn't be somebody else
You longed to be someone,
And all your colours running off, and you feel it giving
up
Cause you couldn't be somebody else when the miracle
came undone
