The light outside is shining in her eyes
Listen to the winter song
It's colder now December's come
She makes me happy
But now the times have changed

The moon outside is shining in my eyes
I hope one day we'll be the same
I hope one day you'll say my name
You make me happy
I'll tell you why we've changed

Now she's gone
It's been so long
No matter how hard I try
The time has come and passed me by
I failed her

These were the days of my life
Nothing compares to these endless nights
You know it's harder to see
For someone like me
I have to leave you behind
Now you're gone

This is place is real
These feelings never die
I know you never wanted this
But I see it in your eyes
Cause now we imagine
A world where theres no time

If everything was turning out just fine
We'd never be alone again
This cross road in your mind
You made me happy
But now the times have changed

Now she's gone
It's been so long
no matter how hard I tried
The time has come and passed me by

I failed her

These were the days of my life
Nothing compares to these endless nights
You know it's harder to see
For someone like me
I have to leave you behind
Now you're gone

Start breathing the air outside
Now make it get older
It's not how I want this to be
Now we're getting older

These were the days of my life
Nothing compares to these endless nights
You know it's harder to see
For someone like me

These were the days of my life
Nothing compares to these endless nights
You know it's harder to see
For someone like me

Now nothing's the same Now She's Gone.
