We've broken down,
We're fading out,
And you fall on your knees,
And stand defeat,
Just when it feels like hell is freezing over,
Hold on,
Embrace,
This symphony

Let's play the very first line,
It feels much better, and it's all in time,
It's coming together,
When the drums come in, the keys get louder,
Now I'm building a collision of chords

This time it's not tiny voices,
It's a chorus of noise,
We're surfing a sea of places,
Now, now, now, we're singing,
A fanfare of sound, pulled out from within,
We fly through the broken minor,
Woah woah woah we've come back down,

When you've been let down,
It's a bitter end,
Everyone stands off, you know your lost again,
The lights are fading and we're still escaping,
The city and twilight that marks and fills the sky,

Let's play the very first line,
It feels much better, and it's all in time,
It's coming together,
When the drums come in, the keys get louder,
Now I'm building a collision of chords,

This time it's not tiny voices,
It's a chorus of noise,
We're surfing a sea of places,
Now, now, now we're singing,
A fanfare of sound, pulled out from within,
We fly through the broken minor,
Woah woah woah we've come back down,

Not the last time, I can't stay...
I can't stay away...
It's not the last time

Let's play the very first line,
It feels much better,
And it's all in time, you know it's coming together,
When the chords start progressing,
We wait for the ending,

This time it's not tiny voices,
It's a chorus of noise,
We're surfing a sea of places,
Now, now, now we're singing,
A fanfare of sound, pulled out from within,
We fly through the broken minor,
Woah woah woah we've come back down,

(woah oh, woah oh...)
A fanfare of sound, pulled out from within,
We fly through the broken minor,
Woh, woh, woh, we've come back down.
