Did I ask you to call me, darling,
Got no time for a bitter end I could come around Thursday, maybe, but I know you're gonna be with your friends

'Cuz every day is like a rooftop catching the sun and if no one is watching does our love leave any trace Or just an echo out in space

Yeah...

If you knew what a fool I've been,
You'd strike a match for every day that's been lost
What I wouldn't give to see you make a livin' breaking even
Or just counting the cost

'Cuz every day is like a newborn still as the sun
and if no one is watching does our love leave any trace
Or just an echo out in space
Or just a broke down empty place

Yeah...
