"Evil Speaks"

Dangerous lies about my life
Crawling up behind my back
Pitiful eyes looking down on me
Carefully they rip my flag
Take me to the room
Where the weak are strong
This is the place
Where I might belong
Lock me up in chains
So I can't break free
Cover up my eyes
So I can not see

Walking through the broken glass
You know that your feet will bleed
Holding all your secrets back
You know that evil speaks

Innocent souls in dark disguise
Hiding from the grinding shame

Holding back the words
They want to hear
Searching for the one to blame
Show me where the night
Never fades to dawn
Forget the place where the dreams come from
Bring me to the edge
Of the deepest hole
Push me in the back
So I can free my soul

Take my mind into your hands
You know that I can't be read
Secrecy will speed your plans
Ignore what the evil said
