No one can see the world through your eyes
No one can see this world through your eyes
Look what the puppy feels and the desert sky
Let ... should... of what's on wise
See the things that other just pass on bye
Go, put your painted canvas, make the mountains rise

Chorus:

No one can see the world through your eyes
No one can see this world through your eyes
No one can see the world through your eyes
No one can see this world through your eyes

Paint your boldest color, oh your brightest idea
A smallest passing moment in your longest passing year
The pebbles on our floor ...
Go, live your dream, Georgia O'Keeffe
Cause no one can see
The world through your eyes
No one can see this world through your eyes
Though you see the world, the power of flower
The lights in New York City
The sky and the days last hour
See the things that other just pass on by
Put your paint on canvas, Georgia
Make the mountains rise

Chorus:

Cause no one can see the world through your eyes
No one can see this world through your eyes
No one can see this world through your eyes
No one can see the world through your eyes
No one can see this world through your eyes

Unless you paint it, unless you write it
Unless you dance that
Take a chance on it
No one can see this world through your eyes
No one can see this world through your eyes
No one can see the world through your eyes

Through your eyes!
