V.1

When will it ever be alright?
When will you not want to fight?
When will it go another way?
When will our lives ever be okay?
I should've never told you about my past
You're acting insecure I don't think it's gonna last
I should've know better

Pre-chorus

Love I don't know your name
You aren't the same
We share a bed full of stress
Now I can't get no rest
So I stay in my place
Not to feel the same space
Because I just can't touch
What angers me so much

Chorus

I should have never mentioned things about them
I should have never hinted that I knew them
I should have never let it out
I should have known you would have doubt
I can't control the things you've been thinking
I can't let you bring me down for no reason
I should have never let it out
I should have known what you'd be about

V.2

Why can't I go out by myself?
Why would I go find someone else?

Why can't I think to dye my hair red?
Why did you have to go and say the things you said
I shoulda never told you about my past
You're actin insecure I don't think it's gonna last
I shoulda known better

Pre-chorus

Chorus

Shoulda never, shoulda woulda never ever
Coulda never, coulda woulda never ever

Rap

Break the status quo like whoa
That's where you took it let's go
We can do this let's do this Cause there's a lot more that's to this
What you talking bout him for, reminiscing bout him for Did you want to survive this or did you really want him more
Not a trip to France or an intimate dance
Not that familiar glance or us holding hands
Can replace the silence that sits beside us
Apart when we sleep even sharing the same sheets

Chorus

Shoulda never, shoulda woulda never ever
Coulda never, coulda woulda never eve
