Under the night sky
With the rain falling down in our eyes
And we are soaked our hands so cold
But tonight I hold you close
Tonight you know it's all right
You don't have to hold so tight

Joanna, you know you are
The closest that I've ever come to love

Running from porch lights that came on
As we ran by we will stay right here
We'll be fine
With my lips on your mouth
So you don't make a sound
At least not one too loud

Joanna, you know you are
The closest that I've ever come to love
Joanna, open up your eyes
So you can see there's nothing wrong tonight
Nothing wrong tonight

If tonight is the last time I get to hold you close
I want you to know
I want you to know

Joanna, you know you are
The closest that I've ever come to love
Joanna, open up your eyes
So you can see there's nothing wrong tonight

Joanna, you know you are
The closest that I've ever come to love
Joanna, open up your eyes
So you can see there's nothing wrong tonight

So you can see there's nothing wrong tonight (x2)
