An inaudible sound
in the midst of the night breaks the silence of dreams Anger and hatred
against the oppressor are ruling your spirit that's crying for absolution Ready to break through the barricades you slowly become like a renegade Consciousness grows like a great wheel on fire deep inside rebel minds denying all regulations Hovering over
the weeds of society Over the ages the seed's been sown
how germinating rebellion's grown everywhere
The silent majority runs amok you suddenly feel
an electric shock
in the air
Oceans of minds
lost in the maze of our times Now gather round
ready to reunite
reunite
Unexpectedly
growing steadily
in the shadows of secrecy there's a power source emanating force
in a gale of resistance all around

Now your blood boils inside feel your pulse running fast there's no way to delay the moment of resolution Push aside all the fears and ignore all the rules we're approaching the start of the countdown of revolution

Kids
We are the future race
it's our rightful place to make all the changes we know to be due Can you remember when your were much younger then you looked at the world through your innocent eyes and life was a game you played Answer
Yes I remember well:
I was so bold and no,
nobody's fool
but they corrected that in the days I spent in school
Kids:
Look at the mess you made We're in an awful state It wasn't your right to destroy our world
a foolish and terrible crime We're gonna take control We're gonna change it all
We need no permission to do what is right
the future is in our hands
