Baby you're missing somethin' in the air
I got a name but it don't matter
What's goin' on? It's cold in here
You have a life but it's torn and tattered

Maybe you're losin' pieces of your heart
You have a world but it stopped turnin'
You lose the day and gain the dark
Love was a fire but it stopped burnin'

Spare your heart, save your soul
Don't drag your love across the coals
Find your feet and your fortune can be told
Release, relax, let go
And hey now let's recover your soul

Lazy old sunset sinkin' like a tear

Alone at night in a losin' battle
That perfect world is never clear
You have to fight for the things that matter

Spare your heart, save your soul
Don't drag your love across the coals
Find your feet and your fortune can be told
Release, relax, let go
And hey now let's recover your soul

Spare your heart, save your soul
Don't drag your love across the coals
Find your feet and your fortune can be told
Release, relax, let go
And hey now let's recover

Hey now let's recover
Hey now let's recover your soul
And hey now let's recover your soul
