

Elvis Costello "Brown To Blue"

Visit "Brown To Blue" on MotoLyrics.com

We stood there in the courthouse room so close but far apart
You brought along the lawyer and I brought a broken heart
The judge pronounced the words the way you wanted him to do You changed your name from Brown to Jones and mine
from Brown to Blue

I couldn't help my tears from falling on the courtroom
floor
My love, they took away my right to love you anymore
My world just seemed to stop as I stood there so close to you
You changed your name from Brown to Jones and mine
from Brown to Blue

The judge forgot to tell me how I'd live my life alone
What I would do without you after loving you so long He didn't seem to care that I'm still in love with you
You changed your name from Brown to Jones and mine
from Brown to Blue

I couldn't help my tears from falling on the courtroom
floor
My love, they took away my right to love you anymore
My world just seemed to stop as I stood there so close
to you
You changed your name from Brown to Jones and mine
from Brown to Blue

Brown to Blue

Visit Elvis Costello page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.