Tell me now
Or are you only teasing?
I felt the cold hard facts of life
Five degrees from freezing

Does it amuse you
To always hurt me so?
I try my best it's not enough
Should I give up and let you?

What more is there to take from me?
There's nothing else to give you, dear
There's nothing more that I can lose
Except this heart shaped bruise

It will fade
From purple to violet
It will fade
Just as the day dissolves into twilight

Tell me now
Am I only dreaming?
You said that you'd be mine for life
Now you say you're leaving

If I could hold you
Once more before you go
When I approach you just lash out
Should I give up and let you?

What more is there to take from me?
There's nothing else to give you, dear
There's nothing more that I can lose
Except this heart shaped bruise

It will fade
From purple to violet
It will fade, it will fade
It will fade it will fade it will fade
