If dust could only talk
What would we hear it say?
Before it's brushed aside
Just as it's swept away

It's just the evidence
It's of no consequence
It's only flesh and bone
Why don't you leave it alone?

If dust could only speak
Caught in a falling beam
If dust could only cry
If dust could only scream

For it's the single witness
That might testify
Could I spit out the truth?
Or would you rather just swallow a lie?

But dust is always caught behind a coat of paint
Beneath the marble fingernails of kings and saints
And in the theater curtain where they hang a drape
Or in the ticket pocket where your hands escape

Before they start to wander or they start to shrink
You rub your eye a little and appear to blink
And then she caught you staring she knows just what you're thinking
What got into you was not a ghost as such, it was just dust

Here comes the juggernaut
Here come The Poisoning
They choke the life and land
And rob the joy from us

Why do they taste of sugar
Oh, when they're made of money?
Here comes the Lamb of God
And the butcher's boy, Sonny

Well, I believe we just Become a speck of dust
