Circulate, take a chance with my mind
She can change the world but she can't change the air
Hesitate all the pain inside There's another life on the line, so don't you stop until you think it's time

What you want your thinking about it
What you heard your laughing about it
What you need your hurting about it
All the love you take until it stops

Love, everyone you love..
Reminisce on all the things that's been said
Take some of this and it will ruin your head Lord knows she was created from within
Circulate, take a chance with my mind
She can love everyone if she tried but she can't and she won't so relay

Love, everyone you love..
