Different colours, different sounds
Dirty world stop spinning around but there is no one i can, find someone as unique as you

But if i go far away, will i come back to you No matter where i stay It's in my soul, it's in my veins Will i come back to you No matter where I stay

Different times into different days
Your behavior gets carried away
Paint it black don't paint it your name
You do it first and i'll do the same
If i go far away, will i come back to you
No matter where I stay
It's in my soul, it's in my veins
Will i come back to you
No matter where I stay

Different change in a different way Oh my thoughts just stay the same What i got I'd give away It's not a lot but you still complain
