[Verse] Hey, hey I like her Isn't that how it starts? She feel the same y'all came together but you're now apart since it went sour tart you got a coward heart You're never giving up, thinking all the while it's smart It made you ice cold 'cause you gambled and your dice rolled snake eyes that make guys play, when they twice old and you thought that you would never trust again thinking they're good just for lust and sin and not for busting in And like the other players where they take us to their lair then you lay her, there's not a special person in your prayers Going through women, some thick, a few slim and busting out their shirts, others out their blue denim and there's a lot of fish in the sea, where you swimming that you could fetch but wouldn't think they were a good catch Till one day that fly one comes along you think of her off an R&B cut, then hum the song and get the feeling feeling numb is wrong when she's away, you miss her like when the summer's gone The place where this coming from is strong and you trying to fight it. Delighted, when she come around hot and you're excited they say you can feel real when you first sight it Also known as the gift and the curse silent Get bit by the bug, coping, show a few the symptoms you fall in love but just before you fell, you were trippin g meaning you were slipping then you got opened and told her everything, through your body language, it was not spoken You out with her it's like you never call your hoes give her the tallest rose, y'all hit the mall for shows You stop going to bars where a baller goes to pop bottles with top models and take off all her clothes You're still in denial, but you're building a smile when she say she, feeling your style [Hook] 'Cause baby girl you got that glow very, very far from a hood rat and not that hoe I'm saying you could spot that yo make you wanna plot at getting her she's hot that show (Repeat) 'Cause baby girl got that, got that, got that.... [Verse] Something special, when we uh, uh your vessel becomes a pretzel And you be gone I be missing your bond, very fond You make a heart exist in a don I know that you're feeling me, it's all inside your kisses said if you were my misses I would never have a mistress You make a player want to put away his pimp cup, Cadillac, Kane, I'll even throw my limp up I was in denial, it hit me like Blao! when you say you feeling my style [Hook] 'Cause baby girl you got that glow Very, very far from a hood rat and not that hoe I'm saying you could spot that yo make you wanna plot at getting her she's hot that show (Repeat 3x) 'Cause baby girl you got that, got that, got that.... 'Cause baby girl you got that, got that....
