"Ring"

I am a symbol of malleability, with the shape I'm in, I'd say that you can mold me I am a block of clay, why don't you solidify yourself with me today? And we'll be some ugly rock on someone's T.V. top.... You and I and our fading world turn it up and down like a T.V. screen, flesh colour fading, fading away. I am symbol of fading reality but I'm also that cymbal you find in the symphony. I have two sides to me but you have to touch them both in order to really, really play me. Just put your hands on me and bring me together. You are that ring around my finger, you are that ring around my heart Just like the planet Saturn, Ring and Sphere aren't worth much apart so "Planet" with me, because I am here, I am here, Ring, ring, ringing in your ear. I am symbol. I am so many symbols I am stumbling for symbols but there's a ring in everything that I say You can mold a ring out of my clay and as you take the cymbals down to play, make a ring of sound. And as you turn the T.V. colour down, there's a ring of light getting smaller, smaller, fading away, fading away. O.K. Yeah right. But there's just a simple black sky tonight. I don't want to play "ringette" anymore I don't want to think, my mind is sore. You are that ring around my finger, you are that ring around my heart Just like the planet Saturn, Ring and Sphere aren't worth much apart so "Planet" with me, because I am here, I am here, I am here Ring, ring, ringing in your ear.
