take heed and bear witness to the truths that lie here in for they are the last legacy of conflict

there is a war
that rages on even now beyond the fields of derangement

War ~ between kingdoms of burning hells it is known as the great conflict it has raged and burned longer than any stars in the sky neither side ever gains sway for long as the forces of light and darkness constantly vie for control over all creation...

war, war, war...
