"The God You Save"

Visit "The God You Save" on MotoLyrics.com

if man insist on externizing his true self in form of "god" then why fear his true self in fearing "god"?
why praise his true self in praying god?
why remain externalized from god in order to engage in ritual and religious ceremony in his name?

stop the lies! stop the madness!
end the curse of an epidemic agent

the god you save may be yourself rip up the bible, crush the crucifix free yourself from conscience slavery free yourself from christianity beware your children of the church for nevermore shall rule on earth who's that god - who kill our friends who's that jesus - never help what's that priest - above our childs what's that book - full of invented lies the god you save may be yourself!

beware that shit which'll be your real hell

stop the lies! stop the madness!
