I feel like I'm at something,
you always say you need more time.
Well I'll stay right here and,
I'll wait for good until I find a love worth mine.
Someday you've got it coming,
it hurts me when I read the signs.
So loud and clear that,
I'll make you glad if I'm leaving first and crying.
All you good good people listen to me,
Are you just about done with the way that you feel?
When nothing rings home enough to dig your heels in,
You don't have to leave me to see what I mean.

All you good good people listen to me.
All I want to do is find,
My name upon the line.
Before I have to lose this,
I want time.
All you good good people listen to me,
Are you just about done with the way that you feel?
When nothing rings home enough to dig your heels in
You don't have to leave me to see what I mean.
Lose all your fears they are keeping you down,
You won't have to fake it while I'm around.
All you good good people listen to me.
