Keeping me up on my feet, was a love so complete
I have chased, but never bettered
Everything seemed like it fell at our feet
Now she's out of my reach and there forever

In the end I wished it all would burn
You are everywhere now you are gone
There's no stone left I have not found unturned
Like a tidal wave that never breaks
I will run and run and never stay
Cos there's no way back, that I can face
No one's come to take your place

Sweeping me clean off my feet
You and me were so sweet
Now the taste has left me bitter
Memory lean only gets you one way
And that's back to the place

And there forever

In the end I wished it all would burn
You are everywhere now you are gone
Theres no stone left i have not found unturned
Like a tidal wave that never breaks
I will run and run and never stay
Cos there's no way back that I can face
No ones come to take your place

You wont love, you wont love
You wont love:

Like a tidal wave that never breaks
I will run and run and never stay
Cos there's no way back that I can face
No ones come to take your place

Keeping me up on my feet was a love so complete
I have chased but never bettered
